DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see page 3, paragraph 2, filed 3/1/07, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1, 2, 4, 5, and 7 under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Zamierowski have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Zamierowski in view of Keogh et al. USPN 5344455.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zamierowski in view of Keogh et al. USPN 5344455.

Zamierowski teaches a wound healing combination comprising a porous pad 12, 14 that is permeable to fluids and is injected with a plurality of wound healing factors and a suction tube 28 in fluid communication with the porous pad and a vacuum source. Zamierowski teaches a wound healing combination with a porous pad 12, 14 injected with a plurality of wound healing factors, such as growth factors, antibiotics, and analgesics (col. 4, lines 42-46). It is inherent that medical care that growth factors in wound healing comprise of a basic fibroblast growth factor and an antimicrobial agent comprise an antibiotic.

Zamierowski does not disclose the limitation of grafting wound healing factors into the pad. Keogh discloses grafting a bioactive agent, such as basic fibroblast growth factor, onto a polymeric substance for use in blood-contacting polymeric surfaces that do not promote red cell destruction and coagulation of blood (Keogh col. 1, lines 14-20; col. 2, lines 1-31; col. 4, lines 44-55; col. 10, line 63 through col. 11, line 6; col. 14, lines 5-37). One having ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to graft the wound-healing agent of Zamierowski onto the pad of Zamierowski for the benefits that Keogh teaches. Zamierowski/Keogh further discloses drapes 18, 22, 24 for sealing the pad.
